Link-Systems International, Inc. Accessibility Conformance Report

VPAT® Version 2.3 – April 2019

Name of Product: NetTutor

Product Description: Platform for connecting students with professional online tutors

Report Date: July 16, 2019

Contact information: accessibility@link-systems.com

Notes: NetTutor is designed to work with all major screen readers, and our testing process involves thoroughly checking any new features using JAWS, NVDA, and VoiceOver. NetTutor is also designed to work with screen magnifiers (e.g. Freedom Scientific MAGic) and speech recognition programs (e.g., Dragon NaturallySpeaking).

How a Student Connects with a Tutor Using a Screen Reader

Student launches NetTutor from his LMS and chooses his group/subject.

Student navigates to and selects the option to meet with a tutor in a live session.

If the tutor is not immediately available, the student will be placed in line. The wait page will identify the student's position in line and suggest what he might do while waiting.

When the tutor selects to go live with that student, the student's screen reader will read user activity aloud.

In-session text remains navigable by using the screen reader's list key navigation.

Evaluation Methods Used: Before new features are released to our testing environment, they've gone through accessibility testing. Our developers have integrated the aXe accessibility tool into their local coding environments, and they will not release features that throw errors. After a new feature is released, it goes through two additional rounds of testing: testing by our product development team and our QA team. Both of these rounds of testing involve checking the feature using aXe and the WAVE accessibility tool, as well as assistive technology software.

Because they are the most common, these are the combinations of browsers and assistive technologies that we use during development and quality assurance:

JAWS with Internet Explorer

NVDA with Firefox

VoiceOver with Safari
